

Please complete this Beliefs and Values Survey by answering the following questions in your notes:

Question 1: One evening a close friend who's been feeling down asks you to go out to the movies. You'd like to go, but you're supposed to work that night. And when you get off your shift, you have to finish an essay that's due the next morning. What will you do?

A) Call in sick and go out with your friend. You'll try to get an extension on the paper or pull up your marks in later units by working harder in the coming weeks.

B) Tell your friend you'd like to go to the movie but you have to work and need to get a paper done for school.

Question 2: Imagine you are a student where the principal has just introduced a policy that requires all students to wear a school uniform and an ID tag. The rationale behind the policy is that it allows school officials to easily recognize strangers in the school and, therefore, improves student safety and security. The new policy is very unpopular, and a group of students approaches you and asks you to sign a petition against the policy. If you sign the petition, you must also agree to take part in a "Protest Day." On that day, students against the policy will come to school out of uniform. What will you do?

A) Sign the petition and participate in the protest.

B) Refuse to sign the petition and attend class in uniform on "Protest Day."

Question 3: One night during a sports tournament in your area, vandals spray paint graffiti on the side of the bus that belongs to a rival team. You overhear some friends joking about what they wrote on the bus. Through the media, the mayor and police condemn the vandalism and ask for information that will lead to the vandals' arrests. What will you do?

A) Ignore the request for information.

B) Anonymously report what you know to Crime Stoppers.

Question 4: A town's new mayor proposes a bylaw what will require stores selling contraceptives to keep them behind the counter so that customers need to speak to a clerk in order to purchase them. "Ready access to contraceptives promotes promiscuity and premarital relations," says Mayor Fransoo. Since citizens are divided on the issue, town council proposes that a web login number and password be distributed to all local people, including teenagers. People can then log in on the town website and vote on the issue. How would you vote?

A) Yes, contraceptives should be kept behind pharmaceutical counters.

B) No, contraceptives should be accessible to customers on store shelves.

How did you come to your decision for each answer? Which questions were easy to answer? Did some decisions present you with more of an internal conflict than others?